

Seminar

Wednesday, November 29, 2017

11:00 AM – 206 Furnas Hall

Fire Prevention Training Unit

Environmental Health and Safety
University at Buffalo

Fire Safety and Extinguisher Training

MANDATORY for all new students entering labs

Class participants will learn Fire Safety Awareness including the importance of Safely Evacuating a Building, the importance of acknowledging Fire Alarms, planning ahead and having solid Exit Strategies, the different types of Fire Extinguishers, when to use an Extinguisher and learning about different types of Fires. The Workshop will conclude with a hands on opportunity to learn how to use a Fire Extinguisher.

University at Buffalo

Department of Chemical and Biological Engineering

School of Engineering and Applied Sciences