The policies and requirements listed in the undergraduate catalog are in effect for the entirety of the academic year. Online catalogs are archived in March of each academic year, and the archived versions may be accessed through the links below or by contacting the Office of the Registrar.

The edition of the catalog that contains students' university and major requirements is determined by their academic year of entry or reentry and academic year of acceptance to the major. See the Catalog Rights Statement for specific information.

Calendars, academic and degree programs, policies, and fees are subject to change at any time by official action of the University at Buffalo or the State University of New York.

Departmental websites and departmental curricular and course information are maintained independently and do not necessarily reflect university-approved curricula and course information. In case of discrepancies between departmental information and the University Undergraduate Catalog, the University Undergraduate Catalog is considered definitive.

Changes in policies, procedures, and administration may have occurred since the final publication deadline for this catalog. For the most up-to-date information, please contact the Office of the Registrar.

Course descriptions may be found within the individual academic program pages. Course descriptions for previous academic years may be found in the archived catalogs listed below.

Student Responsibility Statement

The university is committed to the ideal of flexibility and diversity in the educational experience. Certain regulatory procedures are necessary, however, to ensure that the complex needs of a large student body in search of diverse educational goals are met efficiently and smoothly. Students are advised to familiarize themselves with the following details in order to avoid any difficulties along their chosen path to the baccalaureate degree.

By accepting responsibility for their education, students enhance the development of their academic, social, and career goals. As a condition of enrollment, students are responsible for reviewing, understanding, and abiding by the university's regulations, procedures, requirements, and deadlines as described in official publications, including the university's undergraduate catalog, UB websites, and official university email communications.

In addition, all students are required to positively affirm their knowledge of, and adherence to, UB's Student Conduct Rules, University Standards and Administrative Regulations prior to their inaugural semester at UB. Asserting a lack of knowledge of university regulations will not be accepted as a basis for an exception to these regulations.

UB Curriculum – UB’s General Education Program

For All Undergraduates Entering UB Fall 2016 & Forward

The UB Curriculum is a program of core study built around intellectual discovery and integrative learning. It emphasizes critical thinking, ethical reasoning, global learning, and strong communication skills, providing the tools students need to succeed in their professional lives and to meet the responsibilities of citizenship in a diverse and interconnected world.

The Program consists of four main program components — UB Seminar, Foundations, Pathways and Capstone — and comprises 40 credits of study for all students, irrespective of major. To learn more about each of these components, visit the UB Curriculum website:

Intended Major

Intended = A major you are considering or working on the prerequisites for, but to which you have not yet applied or been accepted.

Approved Major

Approved = A major to which you are accepted either at the time of entry to UB (only certain majors do this) or after you have completed the prerequisites and applied to the department.

Undecided

Undecided or Exploratory is not a major that you can declare. It describes a student who is not sure about a major or who is exploring multiple majors.

Making Timely Progress

- Choose a major as early as possible and begin working on the prerequisite courses (also referred to as “Acceptance Criteria”)*.
- Acceptance Criteria vary by major - they can range from 3 to 15 courses - so planning ahead is critical!
- Plan out most UB Curriculum (general education) requirements and major prerequisites in your first two years.
- Aim at being accepted to a major *by no later than 60 credit hours completed.
- Get help if you are having trouble.
- Consider changing your major if things are not going well.

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity is a fundamental university value. Through the honest completion of academic work, students sustain the integrity of the university while facilitating the university's imperative for the transmission of knowledge and culture based upon the generation of new and innovative ideas.

- manner representing the work of another as one's own.
- Cheating. Soliciting and/or receiving information from, or providing information to, another student or any other unauthorized source (including electronic sources such as cellular phones or other devices), with the intent to deceive while completing an examination or individual assignment.
 - Falsification of academic materials. Fabricating laboratory materials, notes, reports, or any forms of computer data; forging an instructor's name or initials; resubmitting an examination or assignment for reevaluation which has been altered without the instructor's authorization; or submitting a report, paper, materials, computer data, or examination (or
