International Student and Scholar Services (ISSS) is now recruiting students to serve as Orientation Volunteers (OVs) for our Fall 2018 International Student Orientation. While working with ISSS staff and fellow students is a lot of fun, our dedicated volunteers are crucial to the success of our week-long orientation. OVs are expected to be engaging, enthusiastic, committed, and respectful. Throughout the week, OV will gain great leadership experience while also performing tasks that vary from handling important documents and distributing materials to directing student traffic and fielding general questions about UB.

If you are interested in being an Orientation and are available (August 17-25), please complete the application at the following link: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/FALL2018OV> (even if you served as an International Student Orientation Volunteer in the past).

If you know any other students (international or domestic students of any citizenship, academic level, major, etc.) who might be interested in serving as an OV, please encourage them to complete the application in the link above. Group interviews for new OVs will be conducted in April/early May.

Please note: Orientation Volunteers MUST be available from Friday, August 17 to Saturday, August 25. Additionally, Orientation Volunteers MUST be currently enrolled UB student
